April Kelley-Hill is the College and Career Services Coordinator at CodeRVA Regional High School in Richmond, VA. She has a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Management and Finance from CUNY - Brooklyn College, a Master's of Science degree in Career and Technical Education from Virginia State University and a Doctorate degree in Educational Leadership from Virginia State University. Constantly updating her skill-set, she holds several IT certifications including a Certificate in Computer Networking issued by J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College. She has a heart and passion for young people, especially 12th grade students who are about to enter the world of college, many of them first generation college attendees. She spends time helping students decide on what college to attend, how to pick a major based on career goals, what the different facets of financial aid are, and how to fill out the FAFSA form. Additionally, she spends time researching scholarship opportunities for students and distributing that information via a list serve that she created to get information to students. When she is not working she enjoys spending time with her husband, Antonio Hill, and working on her genealogy research. One of her favorite scriptures is Philippians 4:13 that states, I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me.

Pamela Crook is the Outreach Coordinator for CodeRVA Regional High School in Richmond, VA. She has a Bachelor of Arts degree from Spelman College and a Master's degree in Counseling from Liberty University. She is enthusiastic about the opportunity to encourage and recruit students, especially females, to enroll in the computer science focused high school. With over a decade of experience in both general and exceptional education, Pamela brings with her the unique ability to identify the types of students who will thrive at CodeRVA. When Pamela is not in the community promoting her school, she is the team mom of her daughter's school and club volleyball teams, which takes up most of her free time. To relax, Pamela enjoys spending time with her daughter and two fur babies.
